My dear Miss Weston,

although your last letter reached me in due course, two months I more or less forgot it, I only now taken up my pen to write to you in reply. — you must think that I have forgotten you & have given me up as a faithful correspondent & friend.
Pray do not think any thing of the kind.
Since I returned home affliction upon affliction has come upon me like so many rolling waves I'm the sinner than last one of my dear children — a daughter my second a girl of 22 not long since a perfectly strong healthy & sure of long life

My own health has also been very very different & my poor wife still ill But the Lord has declared that in six months he will be with us & we shall not leave us. Bless His name, my hope is in Him. And when we dear put I consider your case a far more trying one than mine. An orphan, alone & a stranger & a woman too. Ah I would rather close the eyes & adjust in the coffin the last of my dear daughter than leave them orphans to creep for mercy & then more comfortable home without any or a cold world to be their protector & guide. My heart is always very tender towards the orphan. Within four years I have buried three & have now only two left. But the Lord gave & the Lord has taken away I blessed be His holy name. They all died in the faith of the Gospel.

I do hope dear child that you must be more at ease & comfortable than it was when we wrote in August. I do understand how 'very' worried you may feel your heart & yet be a Christian. It is 'Christ in us' the hope of glory not a pure & sinless heart in us the hope of glory. Paul called himself a wicked man are you lower than that if you can say 'with the mind I serve' then you are safe. Do you not feel some witness in yourself. Like Peter cannot you sometimes say Lord I love you - oh what a blessed state is that to feel our utter unworthiness & with broken & contrite heart to cast ourselves upon the mercy of God - and feel that he is all to us our lightness, our sanctification - we are complete in him. Without any hesitation I say to you if you are still hesitating - for the sake surely so as to be conscientiously oh yes & cheerfully, & thankfully. But do not without a Doctor's advice attempt trying for a certificate. Let your lawful share to occupy the ground of a contested teacher to put aside your spears to you in dispute these words Do not make the law & general norms system or you are a dead or useless woman. It is not better to work without a certificate than to possess a certificate the knave for work afterwards. I sympathize with you in your desire but let it improve yourself steadily but gently. Perhaps at Xmas 1862 you may be strong enough. I hope your pride is not an unworthy pride.

If I were near you when you talk about sinning against the work of the children I fear I should scold or do something worse. You can only use the means of spontaneous justice not the justice itself. I do not believe a word about your want of wisdom & love. And as to your moods I am prepared to hear that you go through all the moral moods & stages but I yet you should when you get into the indecision about whether to remain as you now & feel of the best love as love to for flowers & pardons. But my dear young friend if I talk thus you may

Friday Afternoon

My Dear Mr Mason

I was very sorry indeed this morning when I found that giving a lesson was too much for you. When I saw you ^{that} I was exceedingly pleased thinking you were better & strong & not nervous in giving a criticism.
 Indeed I felt as if you had lost all fear of me as a critic & regarded me as a friendly genius sitting down to do you a good turn. But oh you naughty girl - it was your own spirit & resolution that too and your way ^{down} before disease - that would discharge a duty at whatever it might cost you you must not attempt another.

I shall not let Mr. Board approach you any more. You can teach well & need only only to study our principles. I liked your lesson much. I trust the good Lord will spare your life & permit you to work in his vineyard a while here.
If however his servants will to depart & escape the world's ~~to~~ snare, to be made for your rest & eternal happiness. Do not you love the Father dear Jesus more & of so to behold his face will be glorious. I hope your affection does not lead you to refine. You may be young in years but rich in experience.

To suffer perfects man & faster than to do. Thus you are brought to be made like the Son. May the Lord preserve you with you in all the riches of ^{his} power & love & give you when the summons comes an abundant entrance into his everlasting Kingdom which is a Kingdom of glory & of suffering.
